No. 100 November 2007

Get set for Well Dressing and Carnival

The month ahead promises to be a busy one for Youlgrave, with the 179th annual Well Dressing, still one of the finest in the Peak District, followed hot on its heels by Youlgrave Carnival, making a welcome comeback after a gap of nine years.

WELLDRESSING WEEK

The usual five wells will be dressed, together with displays by the School and Guides. The Blessing of the Wells and procession through the village will take place on the afternoon of Saturday 21 June, beginning at 2.30pm, with the petallers hard at work from the Tuesday before. See pages 6-7 for more information. In addition, Youlgrave Well Dressers now have their very own website at www.youlgravewelldressers.co.uk.

YOULGRAVE CARNIVAL

The Carnival, once another regular fixture in the village calendar, makes a welcome return this year. Thanks to the hard work of the volunteer committee, a whole host of activities is lined up for the week starting Sunday 22 June, including a treasure hunt, talent contest, bowls competition and wheelbarrow race. The Carnival itself will take place on Saturday 28 June with a marching band, stalls and various events on the playing field, as well as a procession and, of course, the crowning of the Carnival Queen. See pages 4-5 for full details.

MIDDLETON SOCIAL CLUB

Due to a major breakdown in Middleton's electricity supply, we had to cancel the illustrated talk to be given by Mrs L. Mayfield (Chatsworth Guide) on 13 May on the subject of Sir Joseph Paxton. This will now take place on Tuesday 24 June at the usual time 1.30-3.30pm. Refreshments will be served. Everyone welcome. Enquiries telephone 636531 or 636527.

Anyone for tennis?

Youlgrave Tennis Club subscriptions are now due (2008-09): £15 for adults, £5 for students. The club is run by volunteers and we need your money to keep the club going. Pay up and play the game!

Subs are payable to Mrs L. Clark, Overdale, Conksbury Lane, Youlgrave, tel 636524.

If you want to use the Alport Lane tennis courts for a casual game it costs £1 per person. The key is at Holland Butchers.

The 2nd Youlgrave 'Quartetathon'

Saturday 14 June

Phil Bartlett and friends will be repeating their 'Quartetathon' (is this a real word? - Ed), playing a range of classical music from 2-5pm in All Saints Church, Youlgrave. As before, there will be a collection for local charities – probably Youlgrave School and the Church Roof Appeal.

All support is extremely welcome, whether you pop in for just a couple of minutes or stay for two hours. It's all very informal and refreshments will be served. We look forward to seeing you at the church.

Youlgrave School: News from Foundation Stage and Year 1

At All Saints CE Primary School, it has been another busy term for the children in the Foundation Stage and Year 1. Our topic this half term has been all about Minibeasts. This week we have been adding the finishing touches to our giant insects made out of paper mâché, which the children have been busy working on for two weeks. The children have all really enjoyed this activity especially the part which involved getting very messy! We have also been on Minibeasts hunts in the churchyard, where we found all sorts of creatures from caterpillars to spiders. The children have really enjoyed this topic and often brought creepy crawlies in that they have found on the way to school. We have even had a role play area full of real snails, which the children have loved investigating.

Fri 6 June: boards in the river (meet 6pm Coldwell End shed)

VILLAGE EVENTS DIARY

In order to avoid unfortunate clashes of village events please record your forthcoming meetings, events and celebrations in the new VILLAGE DIARY.

It's hanging in Holland's Butchers, just inside the door, and already there are quite a few events entered. It may be helpful to refer to it when considering dates for an event, and for announcing your event, once planned, which will hopefully deter too much competition on the same date!

It's completely free to use, but please don't take the diary away from the shop. Thanks very much to David Figg for giving it shop space. Let's hope as many people use it as possible. GM

Please keep off the Pavilion roof

The Parish Council has asked children not to climb on the Pavilion roof on the Alport Lane playing fields. Not only is it private property (and recently replaced at a cost of several thousand pounds of taxpayers' money), but it is of course highly dangerous and there is a risk of serious injury if anyone falls off. The Parish Council takes this matter very seriously. If you see any unauthorised person on the Pavilion roof please call the Police on 999.

Allotment break-ins

Several sheds at the Parish Council's Coldwell End allotments were broken into last month and a number of items stolen. Please be vigilant and report any suspicious activity immediately.

There will also be a bar and refreshments served in the marquee all afternoon.

From 8pm there will be live music in the marquee from Apocalypse Meow and Dynamite Victim. £5 entry fee, plus a bar and hot food will be available.

Get involved!

There will be posters out in the village for people to put their names down for the football, Talent Night, etc, so please get your names down so we can anticipate numbers for the events.

If anyone can please spare a couple of hours on the day to help out, we need marshals and general helpers.

Also, we still require cakes to sell; and if anyone has got any Tombola prizes please drop them into Jo and her Mum at the Farmyard Inn, for what will be the best Tombola in the world!

The Committee can only do their best to ensure there will be plenty of activities to entertain you all, but it is up to you, the residents of Youlgrave, to help make this Carnival a huge success. So please, please, please, support as many activities as you can, and join in with us on the Day.

Thank you

On behalf of the Committee, I would like to thank everyone for their hard work, suggestions and donations. We really appreciate it.

See you on the 28th!

Mon 16 June: puddling (meet 6pm at river, Holywell Lane)

Have a spare hour in June? Then why not come welldressing...

Before the school holidays start and we pass mid-summer's day, welldressing will be here again in Youlgrave. Middleton's event in May is a timely reminder for Youlgrave's designers, who start racking their brains for different colour materials to use for various things in the picture, and how they will climb that tree to collect the elm keys this year! They're also wondering if anyone has yet genetically engineered sky blue, long-lasting leaves, so that we don't have the annual hydrangea panic, especially as this year our welldressing falls at the same time as so many other local villages.

Aside from that, we're all excited about making the designs a reality, some amid more difficult circumstances than usual. We know whatever emerges early on the Saturday morning, they will be a feast for the eyes. Good luck goes to the children, or rather the new Head Teacher at the school, and the Guides who are doing a great job training the designers of the future.

So, during those lovely long June evenings, especially around the dates below, look out for children with armfuls of dog daisies and buttercups, and men on tractors hauling clay filled boards – they could all do with your help!

There's a lot going on in our village in June, and some of us involved in welldressing can't believe that we're actually going to be contributing to the Carnival as well. I think those of us involved in the organisation of either event hope that the festivities of 2008 will motivate more people to get involved in future years. It just shows what an exciting village we live in!

Welldressing makes it to the web

Still under construction, but nevertheless very much there, is the brand new web site www.youlgravewelldressers.co.uk. It will be expanded to include more information, a downloadable image archive and a map of the village for visitors. Thanks to Philip Smith for his hard work and nagging to make it happen in time for this year's festival.

The origins of welldressing

The village of Youlgrave has more reason than others in Derbyshire to give thanks for water by celebrating welldressing, as we have our very own water supply which has never let us down. The custom must have its origin in pagan ritual, when flowers and greenery were placed beside springs and wells to placate the gods and spirits who were believed to dwell within them.

It is not recorded how long the custom has been practiced in Youlgrave, but in 1829 water was first piped to the 'Fountain' in the centre of the village. From this time, dressings have been erected as a thanksgiving for water by the villagers freed from the burden of toiling up the hillside from the river with their yokes and pails of water.

In 1869, taps were placed along the village street, loosely defining the present day sites.

Youlgrave Playschool needs your child!

In planning for the 2008/9 school year, Youlgrave Playschool has identified that there is a significant drop in registrations and we need your children! With 12 children leaving next term, 11 to All Saints, Youlgrave, things will be decidedly quieter around the Scout Hall from September.

If you are a parent or grandparent, living in and around Youlgrave, but haven't yet explored what's on offer for your 2-4 year old then please get in touch. We welcome children to come just once a week or every day and have places available from September. We are open 9am-12noon every week-day in term time and provide a fun and relaxed learning environment. It's great preparation for school and a safe way for children to learn how to socialise with others. If you'd like to come and visit a session, please contact Anne on 636887.

It's sunny now (well at least some of the time) and in line with Ofsted's requirements for more outdoor play, playschool will be out and about more, taking the children to some of the sites of Youlgrave, and making use of the playing fields. So if you see a dozen children on a rope... they're not fierce, don't bite (neither do their teachers) and are exploring their local environment, so feel free to say hello!

For a registration form or to arrange a visit, please contact Saffron Baker on 636768 or Tanya Ebbage on 636108.

Ride on, ride on and on, and on...

Almost 35 years after she last regularly sat on a bicycle, Rosie Simms of Rock House, Alport, has committed herself to cycling the ancient Pilgrims Way from Canterbury Cathedral to Winchester Cathedral – 145 miles mostly off road in 2 1/2 days.

Cycling off road over sand, mud, rutted tracks, roots, etc, is harder and much slower than road cycling, so the ride will be a tough one for her.

Rosie is raising money to support the work of two charities where local people are working to improve the lot of their communities in the face of severe difficulties, in Israel/Palestine and West Papua.

She knows the ride will be a huge challenge for her, but nothing compared to the challenges faced day by day by these two charities.

picking up a leaflet from Parkers, Holland's, or Youlgrave Post Office, and by contacting her directly at rsimms123@hotmail.co.uk or on 630057.

Alternatively, come to the Rock House Bistro on Sunday 8 June, 12 noon – 5pm, and enjoy lunch or tea and find out more.

ALPORT LANE PLAYING FIELDS WILDLIFE AREA

When you're next on the playing fields, perhaps watching the cricket or enjoying the Carnival, take a stroll down to the small thicket below the children's play area. This former tip was re-landscaped some years ago and after a period of careful maintenance, including repeated mowing and raking, it has now turned into a thriving wildlife site. Last month alone 17 wild flowers and seven grasses were recorded as flowering. Noticeboards either end of the site have full details, including some colour photos, of the plants, butterflies and birds you are likely to see there. The display boards and new mowing equipment have been paid for by a grant secured by the Parish Council from the Breathing Spaces fund. The wildlife area is maintained entirely by volunteers. If you would like to know more or can offer any help please contact Ian Weatherley on 636350 or email iweatherley@tiscali.co.uk.

Visit to Barnsdale Garden, Thursday 3 July

Youlgrave Horticultural Society has arranged a day trip to visit the garden near Oakham, in Rutland, created and made famous by the late Geoff Hamilton, presenter of TV's Gardeners World.

Barnsdale is a real garden and plant-lovers delight, offering many ideas for planning and planting in different styles.

There is also a cafe serving drinks, cakes and light lunches, etc (please note that Barnsdale does not permit picnics anywhere in the grounds), plus a small gift shop stocking a very limited range of gardening items and a comprehensive selection of plants for sale.

The trip is open to everyone and is £12 per person. The coach will pick up at 9am in Youlgrave.

Please phone Jane Gardner on 636721 to book your seat(s) for what we hope will be a most interesting and enjoyable visit.

179th Youlgrave Well Dressing

News from 1st Youlgrave Guides

Recent and future activities

Since Christmas, Youlgrave Guides have welcomed six new girls, some from Youlgrave Brownies and others who are new to the village.

In May, we had a very enjoyable evening thanks to Winster Morris dancers, who both entertained us and put us through our paces!

We have recently spent some varied evenings, including helping to clean Birchover Church and Reading Room, and have also been out melting marshmallows over camp fires – to name but a few.

We are looking forward to canoeing after half term, on the Cromford Canal, followed by a busy week on the Guides welldressing. The Guides have helped with the design and will be doing all the petalling themselves. Their completed work will be on display in the Churchyard as before (near the School steps).

The Guides will also be helping out at Youlgrave Carnival, providing refreshments and running a stall.

This year's summer camp will take place at Whiteley Woods, a Guide campsite on the edge of Sheffield, where we will be able to participate in climbing, archery, assault course and grass sledges, as well as cooking and carrying out the general chores of camp.

ICELAND 2009

Next year we are planning an exciting trip for the Unit, along with a group of older Guides from Ashbourne, which will see about 45 of us venturing to a Scout centre just outside Reykjavik in Iceland. During the week we will spend there we hope to visit a glacier, thermal pools and geysers, go whale-watching, explore Reykjavik and meet other international Scouts and Guides.

Iceland is a very expensive country, so we are therefore fundraising already to enable all the Unit old enough to be able to go. We have already raised over £1,500, but aim to raise at least £10,000. So far, we have been carol singing in Bakewell, held two 'tent cafes' at Alport, organised an Easter quiz and had a few donations – for which we are very grateful. Other events planned include a Christmas dance in December, a promise auction, duck race and bag-packing at supermarkets.

Guides at the Tent Café at Alport last month.

Thank you to everyone us who have supported us so far, including all those who donated plastic bottles (we have reached the target of 500). We hope that you will support future events as generously.

Penny McCloy, Guider

Saturday 21 June – Thursday 26 June

Can you help Youlgrave Guides get to Iceland in 2009?

As part of our fundraising, we are holding an 'Auction of Promises' in the autumn. We are starting to look for interesting and unusual 'promises' that we can auction. Can you help us?

These are the sorts of 'promise' that you may be able to help us with: a stay in a holiday cottage or caravan; a sample lesson in an unlikely skill; tickets to an event or performance; a meal in a café or restaurant; a load of horse manure; a gift voucher; half a day's building work; a signed football shirt; or a tour of somewhere the public don't normally go.

If you might be able to help us (or if you know someone who might be able to help) please contact me on 01629 636125 or email oliverbear@btinternet.com.

Thank you

Penny

From the archives: 'Battle of the Wall' (1963)

SHEFFIELD TELEGRAPH, Friday, March 29, 1963.

Some of the 16 women on their way to knock down the wall at Bradford (Derby).

Battle of the wall

Only a pile of rubble was left yesterday as evidence of the Battle of Derbyshire's Bradford—a full-scale attack by a group of angry housewives on a solid six-foot wall which they claim was blocking a public right of way.

Sixteen women living in the hamlet of Bradford, near Youlgreave, charged on the cemented stone wall which had been blocking a 20 yard long alleyway between a row of cottages.

They pounded it with sledge hammers, crowbars and picks until it was completely flattened.

The Bradford barrier was erected 11 months ago by a householder living in an adjacent cottage. Since then it has caused a storm of controversy among the villagers and led to long discussions by local councils.

Earlier this week the annual parish meeting at Youlgreave passed a vote of "no confidence" in their parish council, claiming that the situation had been mishandled.

HOUSEWIVES ATTACK AS COUNCILLORS TALK

A DREAM COME TRUE FOR GIRL NEXT DOOR

It will be a dream come true for 21-year-old Glenda Taylor when she marries the boy next door on April 27.

For Glenda, of Telling Avenue, Basford, Nottingham, was a hole-in-the-heart baby and was never able to lead a normal active life.

Last June she went into Sheffield Royal Infirmary for an operation. It was so successful that doctors told her: "We think you will be able to have children in a few years' time."

Now she is almost 100 per cent fit.

Bridesmaid

Glenda's husband-to-be, John Laffer, aged 22, is a Naval radio mechanic at Portsmouth, and the couple hope to be given married quarters there.

Glenda's mother, Mrs. Gladys Taylor, said yesterday: "It has been a real boy next door romance. Glenda met John in the Basford area and they went out for two and a half years, before deciding to get married. This is a dream come true for her."

Age 18-year-old Miss Jackie Colbourne, of Wicksworth, who met Glenda in the district and last week had a similar operation, hopes to be fit in time to be one of the three bridesmaids.

Teacher carried to safety

The demolition of the wall came less than 24 hours after the annual parish meeting at Youlgreave had been warned by Mr. Brian Oldfield, a Bradford resident: "The wall has got to come down."

COUNCIL

The council are at the moment in touch with the Derbyshire County Council chairman, Ald. Norman Gratton, to ask for a local inquiry.

But the housewives short-circuited the discussions and yesterday their leaders explained why.

Mrs. Amy Riley, aged 30, mother of two small children, who took a leading role in the attack, said: "We were just blazing. Men have been talking and debating about this for months without getting the matter into our own hands while our husbands were at work."

Mrs. Emmie Webster, who is 72, and was not among the battling housewives, explained: "I know that this has been a public right of way for 60 years and no one had any right to block it up."

Mrs. Nellie Oldfield, 66—she also helped in the charge—declared: "The blocking up of the alleyway caused a half-mile detour instead of just a short walk between the houses."

PRINCIPLE

"But we are concerned about principle of the thing—we regard it as a right to be able to use a walk we have used for years."

The wall has been the subject of correspondence between the parish council, Bakewell Rural Council, Derbyshire County Council and the Footpaths Preservation Society.

Mrs Mary Brassington, the householder who had the wall erected, claims she was within her rights to do so and says it is on private ground.

Final word last night came from Mrs Nellie Oldfield. "It was so exciting knocking down the wall - I wish we had another to do and I wouldn't even mind going over to Berlin," she said.

LOOK SHARP!

Cecil Sharp's visit to Winster in 1908 is celebrated by a series of special events and mass morris dancing next month

'Look Sharp!' Is an event which commemorates the visit exactly 100 years ago of the folksong pioneer and collector Cecil Sharp to Winster.

It promises to be one of the biggest gatherings of morris dancers ever seen in Derbyshire. But it will also be a day of fun, drama, music and song, especially for the children of three local schools at Winster, Elton and South Darley, who are taking part in workshops during the weeks before the event.

They will be morris dancing, maypole dancing, folk-singing, making large puppets of the morris characters and learning about Derbyshire's heritage. It will also be a wonderful opportunity for them to perform their work. Winster Morris Dancers have secure a grant of £18,700 from the Heritage Lottery

Fund, enabling them to pass on their dances to the next generation.

A highlight on the Friday will be a re-enactment of Sharp's arrival. 'He' (actor Steve Tomlin) will arrive by steam train at Darley Dale station as he did in 1908 – thanks to Peak Rail – and take a pony and trap up to Winster where he will visit the school to see children's work. On Friday evening there is an entertainment featuring folk singer Keith Kendrick and a special appearance by Cecil Sharp.

On Saturday 14 June, over 100 dancers from as far away as Oxfordshire and Essex will converge on Main Street to dance. During the day, six teams will tour at least eight Peak District villages on their way to Winster for the spectacular finale. Not to be missed!

Friday 13 June

10.30am: Cecil Sharp arrives at Darley Dale Station.

1.30pm: Cecil Sharp at Winster School.

6pm: Procession through Winster (with music and giant puppets!).

7pm: Evening entertainment – folksong and theatre with Keith Kendrick and Cotton Grass Theatre and a special appearance by Cecil Sharp in the marquee on Winster Playing Field. Tickets: £5 from Winster Post Office and Bakewell Music Shop (Water Street).

Saturday 14 June

11am: Morris dance tours through Derbyshire Dales, including Rowsley Peak Village, Bakewell, Great Longstone, Monsal Head, Tideswell, Cromford and Matlock.

5pm: Mass morris dancing in Main Street, Winster, with seven morris teams.

Monday 16 June

1.30pm: Procession and presentation of children's work to Cecil Sharp.

Gather at East Bank for a procession to the marquee. Morris dancing, folk singing, maypoles and giant puppets.

Sat 21 June: Blessing of the Wells and procession, 2.30pm

Understanding Income Tax Changes

You may be worried because the amount of tax deducted from your income has increased since the disappearance of the 10% tax band. Most people are in fact better off as a result of the package of changes which took effect last month. If you are concerned that too much tax has been deducted, contact the HMRC Local Enquiry Centre on 0845 3667802.

Remember that the amount of tax deducted may have been affected by changes in your gross income, including pensions, or a change in your tax code or allowances, as well as by the actual change in tax rates.

If you are 25 or over and working 30 hours a week you may be entitled to claim Working Tax Credit, contact the Tax Credit Helpline on 0845 300 3900.

A FEW RULES TO LIVE BY

(not to be taken too seriously...)

Don't be irreplaceable. If you can't be replaced, you can't be promoted.

Always remember you're unique. Just like everyone else.

If you think nobody cares whether you're alive or dead, try missing a couple of mortgage payments.

Before you criticise someone, you should walk a mile in their shoes. That way, when you criticise them, you're a mile away and you have their shoes.

Give a man a fish and he will eat for a day. Teach him how to fish, and he will sit in a boat and drink beer all day.

Good judgment comes from bad experience, and a lot of that comes from bad judgment.

The quickest way to double your money is to fold it in half and put it back in your pocket.

A closed mouth gathers no foot.

Generally speaking, you aren't learning much when your lips are moving.

Experience is something you don't get until just after you need it.

Joke of the month

There was a dog called Minton. He had an annoying habit of eating shuttlecocks. "Bad Minton...!"
